Foreword

We were all children once! We all have childhood memories of climbing trees, making mud pies, playing conkers, getting grazes on our knees, racing round the block on our bike, or simply hanging out with our mates.

Play is a fundamental part of growing up. It encourages children to explore their relationship with their world, their surroundings and other people. Play can happen at home, out on the street, in the woods, in the park, inside or outside. But in our modern world, there is increasing competition for children's attention – computer games, television, the internet can hold more interest than swings and roundabouts.

Health issues such as childhood obesity and community issues like anti-social behaviour are growing concerns, and with increased threats to our open space from demand for new housing, the future of play is changing.

There is a need for a co-ordinated approach for play provision, and the development of a five year Play Strategy and Action Plan for Erewash is the starting point. It will enable all those organisations, agencies and groups who are involved in play provision to work together to improve play opportunities for the children and young people across the borough.

Introduction

This document sets out the Children's Play Strategy for Erewash. Its aim is to improve and develop the quality and quantity of opportunities offered to children and young people for play and for 'hanging out'. It provides the framework for implementing Erewash's vision and policy commitments to play. The objective will be to deliver these commitments through a five year action plan which will provide an achievable programme of activities.

Our vision for play is

For every young person to have the opportunity to play in places that are accessible, exciting and imaginative, where they can interact and which are free to use and safe.

Our mission for play is

Children and Young People throughout Erewash will be directly consulted on all matters relating to play provision in the district. Public, private, voluntary and community sector organisations will then work in partnership to deliver quality play opportunities which meet the needs of children and young people identified through the consultation process.

The Borough of Erewash

Erewash borough covers an area of about 110 sq.km and lies between Derby and Nottingham in the south east of Derbyshire. It takes its name from the River Erewash which flows down its eastern border.

Erewash is a borough of contrast: to the eastern side are the market towns of Ilkeston and Long Eaton, whilst to the west the borough is more rural with some isolated villages. The two large cities of Derby and Nottingham both border the borough, and have an influence on the area.

The population of Erewash is 110,099 of which 49%

are male and 51% per cent are female. (Office for National Statistics 2001 Census).

The borough has a black and minority ethnic population of 2% which is well below the national average of 5.5%.

Overall the borough is considered as 'mid table' in terms of levels of deprivation ranking 138th out of 345 districts in England. However a number of communities are amongst the 25% most deprived wards in England with Ilkeston North in the top 2.5% of deprived wards.

The traditional coal mining and lace industries have declined and the local economy is now based largely on engineering and the manufacture of textiles and furniture. In the west of the borough the majority of employment is in agriculture as this area is extensively farmed.

The unemployment rate in Erewash is 3.3%, just below the national average of 3.4%. Transport links are excellent by road (including the M1), rail and air (East Midlands Airport).

The National Agenda for Play

The government's Every Child Matters framework and Change for Children programmes identify the enjoyment of recreation, including play, as a key outcome for children and young people to be considered in the preparation and implementation of Children and Young People's plans under the Children Act (2004). There are 5 outcomes of the Children's Act to which play can contribute and it is recognised that the need to make better provision for play cuts across a range of policy areas that include planning, open spaces, transport, health, education and childcare.

More access to active, outdoor play opportunities has also been identified within the Choosing Health Physical Activity Action Plan (DOH), as a key to combating childhood obesity, making the play agenda a serious issue for all Local Authorities, Children's Services, Primary Care Trusts, Local Strategic Partnerships and Children and Young People's Partnerships.

To assist local authorities and their partners in meeting increased play provision, £15 million has been allocated from the Big Lottery Children's Play Fund to be distributed across the Local Authorities in England and Wales. BIG has provisionally allocated £253,000 to fund improved play provision within Erewash, subject to the successful application of a lottery bid in September 2007.

What is Play?

Getting Serious about Play defines play as "what children and young people do when they follow their own ideas and interests in their own way and for their own reasons."

The guidance goes on to explain that "while the play strategy may adopt a simple definition, it is important to recognise the diversity, complexity and richness of children's play. Recognising this level of variety and complexity is helpful when planning for play as it helps us think beyond play equipment and kick-around pitches."

Strategic Objectives

The Erewash Play Strategy is the net result of a large audit and consultation exercise with stakeholders in the play community – children, young people, parents and carers, and partner agencies in the public, private and voluntary/community sectors.

It sets out a framework within which the various partners can work together to deliver improved play provision that meets the needs of the children and young people aged 0-18 in the borough over the next 5 years. It is a cross-sector document and addresses many other issues concerning play provision such as community safety, inclusion, health and location and quality of provision.

County Strategic Objectives

Erewash Borough Council is a partner in the countywide work to develop a Play Policy for Derbyshire, from which the following strategic objectives have been adopted:

- Develop a co-coordinated approach to play
- Develop a play service that is accessible to all children

- Develop existing and new opportunities
- Involve children and young people in meeting their needs
- Share resources and ensure the highest quality provision is sustainable and appropriate to local needs.

Local Policies for Play

The vision for play will be achieved by delivering the Play Erewash Action Plan which responds to the county strategic objectives and the local play policies, which are to:

1. Establish a partnership approach to play provision
2. Provide safe places to play
3. Consider different play needs according to age and gender
4. Provide for inclusive and integrated play
5. Maximise funding opportunities
6. Provide venues for play in appropriate locations

Play in Erewash

Erewash Borough Council has a responsibility as a local authority to provide and develop play opportunities for children and young people across the borough. Play is embedded within both the Corporate Plan and the Community Strategy and current service provision covers fixed play sites, play schemes and youth facilities.

A large number of partnership agencies and groups from the public, private and voluntary/community sectors are involved in providing for play across the borough, in addition to the services provided by the borough council. Provision ranges from fixed play sites to out-of-school clubs, playschemes, soft play, youth clubs and mother and toddler groups. These include:

- Erewash Borough Council
- Derbyshire County Council
- Parish Councils
- Community Safety Partnership
- Three Valleys Housing
- Childrens Centres
- Groundwork Derby & Derbyshire
- Schools (infants, juniors and secondary)
- Special Schools
- Umbrella
- Community groups & forums
- Arts organisations
- Extended schools/community hubs
- Private Sector play organisations

The Erewash Play Partnership was formed in December 2006 to help steer the development of the play strategy. It is clear from consultation and the production of the action plan, that the play needs of Erewash cannot be met by lottery money alone and the successful delivery of the action plan will depend on the various organisations and agencies providing for play in the borough to work together to help realise the vision for play.

Current provision

The term 'play provision' is used to describe settings whose primary aim is that children should play there. The Children's Play Council objective for good play provision has been summarised as being to deliver play provision that:

- is accessible, welcoming and engaging for all children and young people including those who are disabled or have specific needs and wishes, and;
- recognises that children and young people of different ages have different play interests and needs.

Priorities from consultation

A number of consultation exercises have been carried out in relation to play and open space provision over the past year. Over 1650 responses have been logged from children and young people, and targeted consultation of parish councils and Surestart (children's centres) has also been done. The consultation exercises undertaken are as follows:

- Web-based survey of school children mostly aged between 6 years and 16 years undertaken for the play strategy
- The Sure Start survey of parents undertaken for the play strategy in spring 2007
- Questionnaire survey of representative sample of local residents of Erewash for the Open Spaces, Sport and Recreation Study

- A qualitative study involving children and young people undertaken as part of the for the Open Spaces, Sport and Recreation Study

- Informal consultation with young people of a variety of ages, to explore their play experience and aspirations undertaken for the play strategy

- Two surveys of parish councils:
  - Open Spaces, Sport and Recreation Study Spring 2006
  - Play Strategy Spring 2007
- Surveys undertaken by Derbyshire County Council Youth Service
- Interview with staff of Stanton Vale Special School

Key Themes identified

A number of themes emerged from the various consultation exercises:

- Where children play
- Barriers to play
- The activities that children and young people prefer
- Opportunities to play or 'hang out'.
- What makes a good place to play or 'hang out'?
- What improvements are needed?

Where children play

Under 12's play mostly at home or at friend's houses, less frequently at parks and even less in equipped play areas. Many prefer to play out on the street, using grassed open spaces to play and 'hang out'. Most walk to their play areas, and Victoria Park and West Park were the most frequently visited.

Young people largely 'hang out' on the streets or in the park preferring socialising over 'activity'.

Barriers to Play, according to:

Children & Young People:

- Behaviour of older kids; anti-social behaviour and bullying
- Adults' complaining, more a problem for girls
- Not feeling safe, especially at night
- Lack of places to go which are accessible, safe and lit

- Lack of provision for children/young people with disabilities

Parents:

- Safety issues
  - Traffic
  - Stranger danger
- Dog mess and litter

Parish Councils:

- Lack of suitable land
- Lack of suitable premises
- Lack of volunteers

Activities children and young people prefer

- Organised sports
- After-school clubs
- Outdoor play preferred
- Hang out with friends rather than organised activities
- Mobile facility (DCC) very successful
- Under 5's supervised outdoor play

Are there enough opportunities to Play and 'Hang out'?

- Not enough safe places to hang out
- Parents not happy about children playing out
- Adult perception of young people – ASB issues
- More local play space needed, especially in Ilkeston and Long Eaton
- More space and provision for teenagers, especially in rural areas
- Local opposition presents difficulties in siting teenage provision

What makes a good place to play?

- Somewhere safe close to home
- Space to run about and play sports/games
- Shelter & somewhere to sit (older children)
- Play equipment – especially to swing and climb on (younger children)
- Suitable for range of ages
- Casual surveillance by adults (parents)
- Somewhere indoors to meet and hang out (older children)
- More challenging equipment (older children)

These comments and responses have been incorporated into the action plan which supports the play strategy.

Inclusive Play

Every child has the right to play and the challenge is therefore to ensure that every child and young person is reached, engaged and involved in play provision.

Inclusion is easy to sign up to in principle but there are many barriers to making it work in practice which first must be identified and then overcome.

In Erewash there are a number of organisations who already work closely with disabled children & young people, hard-to-reach groups, minority groups, pupils at risk from harm, excluded children. They will be engaged in the development and delivery of the play strategy to ensure that all play opportunities provided within the borough are truly inclusive.

Balancing risk

Consultation has demonstrated that children and young people placed a high priority on safe places to play. This not only means ensuring that equipped play areas are maintained to the required standards, but above all, play areas should be socially safe and free from the fear of attack, intimidation or bullying.

All too often, children and young people who play and use public spaces are perceived as a threat by the general public. The play strategy should enable provision for children to experience acceptable risk and overcome challenges, within an atmosphere of support and acceptance. Play provision that does not cater for this need could fail and children will seek their thrills elsewhere. A degree of managed risk in play provision is therefore essential.

Action Plan

Informed by the audits and consultation, and linking into key strategic documents and priorities, a series of play policy statements have been developed. These set out the core objectives for the play strategy and will be the reference point for all action and delivery plans arising from the strategy. This has a five-year life span and will be reviewed annually.

Six play policy statements with accompanying outcomes and actions have been identified:

Evaluation

The play partnership is central to the delivery of the play strategy and will be responsible for ensuring the aims and objectives of the strategy and the targets set out in the action plan are met.

- The play partnership will continue to meet quarterly to oversee progress and review/ evaluate at key milestones and create opportunities for feedback
- Quarterly reports will be submitted from all delivery partners with realised outcomes listed and impacts recorded

Sustainability of the Play Strategy

The development and production of this strategy signifies the starting point for improving the provision of play in Erewash by the borough council and its' partners. It sets play into the current strategic and political context and outlines a delivery plan responding to the needs of children, young people and play providers.

The action plan is the 'live' part of the document and is essentially a working document, in need of regular reviews and updates to ensure it is always appropriate and relevant. The play partnership will be responsible for monitoring progress of the delivery of the action plan at their quarterly meetings and reviewing and updating the actions as deemed appropriate. The strategy will be reviewed and updated after 5 years and a new action plan produced. This strategy will hopefully secure the long-term commitment to continuing to deliver improved play provision in Erewash.
