Description
A terrace of four houses, probably built between 1830 and 1850. The terrace is built of Flemish bond brickwork with pale headers and cogged eaves, beneath a natural slate roof. The terrace is two storeys tall and arranged symmetrically. Each pair of houses has paired central entrance doors. These properties may predate the arrival of the Erewash Valley Line (1847), which was a significant local watershed. The properties may therefore have qualities of age that would justify their inclusion on the Local List.
