Description
A farmstead, built in the late eighteenth century. Possibly built for John Draycott (1741-1823). It is built on the site of a medieval grange and incorporates reused stonework. The farmhouse is built of red brick in random bond, with dentillated eaves beneath a natural slate roof with gable parapets. It is two storeys tall. The first floor features elongated window openings with segmental heads. The farm buildings to the west are built of coursed dressed stone, raised in red brick. There is an external staircase against the south wall. Buildings that predate the reign of Queen Victoria are considered to have qualities of age that justify their inclusion on the Local List.
